Advice:

When you are dating, it's good to have fun but it's also important to get to know each other by expanding a conversation topic or asking specific or open ended questions. You can use your creativity to incorporate your questions while playing a game or doing an activity.

Example: If you are playing a game, create a rule that whoever loses or wins a segment, has to ask the partner a question about them. You "kill two birds with one stone." You can have fun and at the same time still get to know each other.

Building relationship and connect:

It is important to make sure you continue and build connections with your other in between your dates. Here are different things you can do:

- Send Flowers
- Send letters to each other
- Send a meal to each other (breakfast/ lunch/ dinner) and eat it together virtually.
- Send a cute text message (or more than one text messages- 😍)
- Send a funny photo or video
- Just call and check in what the other is up to.
- Send wine (only for people who drink wine on dates).
- Send special treats to each other.

Social Distancing Date:

This idea is not for everyone. Some might ask a Rav or a doctor if this is appropriate for them.

If you would like to do a social distancing date, I would suggest:

- You must wear a mask and gloves.
- Sit on benches or chairs that are 6 ft. apart.
- Take a walk 6 ft. apart but the area must be clear.
- Go in seperate cars, find an open parking lot that you can park perpendicular to each other.

If you need more ideas for your virtual dates or need some clarification, please feel free to contact me ;) May Hashem grant you much bracha and hatzlacha along the way.

Happy Dating,
